

Gail was thought to be non-verbal due to her shyness. However, now she enters her classroom and greets her peers & staff without prompting. Gail used to require one-on-one assistance from her staff, but now participates in all group and individual activities on her own. In the past, Gail would bring her personal deck of Uno cards to class and refuse to put them away. She now knows to take the cards out only at appropriate times. Gail enjoys playing Uno and looking at books.
